Short and sweet, a really enjoyable and cute platformer collectathon game, it's fun to get all the achievements and offers some challenge, specially for those who like speedrunning. A very enjoyable MS-DOS inspired collectathon-platformer. I'd recommend to anyone who likes this style of game.. Beat it with 100% completion in an hour and some change, it's short and incredibly sweet. Everything is well drawn, and the music is a big plus as well. It can be as simple as a game of making it from point A to point B, or you can go for the collectathon route and try and get everything; just all depends on how you want to play it. Has a lot of cute design 'teaching' moments without actually ever spelling the mechanics directly out, besides the most basic controls. I highly recommend it at any price, preferably the full price for a well designed, thought out, tight controlling and above all adorable platformer.. A really good platformer that all takes place on one giant map/level, but still has several distinct biomes. You can beat the game in just a few minutes if you know where you're going, but this is a game built for replayability and speedruns. There's three endings- 1) collect all the gems and make it to a special exit, 2) collect all the coins and make it to a special exit, and 3) make it to the 'normal' ending exit. The gems/coins exit are considerably more difficult, as you might expect. The controls work well, though occasionally they're a bit punishing- you really need pixel-perfect jumps in a few spots. But it never feels unfair. Music is good, but you can turn it off if desired. Graphics are nothing that will blow you away but they serve the game well and have a great retro feel. This isn't just another crappy 2d platformer to idle for cards, this is actually a good game. edit: 11/28/2017: A few more notes: The devs are really nice people, the game's music is actually STELLAR (there's hints of Donkey Kong Country here), and more players need to be checking out this game, particularly speedrunners. It's a real gem.. I enjoyed this game. Very good. Buy unless you are gay.. Takes about an hour to get all three endings and then there's no more reason to play the game unless you speedrun.. Finally the game is on the mac :) It is really a cute game. I loved every moment while playing. Although at some parts, it was quite challenging (specially to get all the 3 endings). The world design is great, every part is calculated. Although all the obstacles and enemies are not changing much but the designers always find new ways to use them. I totally recommend this game :). Wonderful little gem of a game.

-The Secret Ending Speedrun Contest Starts Today- : For those that enjoy a good challenge, may we humbly suggest that you try to top the leaderboards for the SECRET ENDING SPEEDRUN over the next week. That means you have to get all 777 coins (yikes) and the appropriate exit doorway. not easy. But for the top 3 on Dec 11, we have fabulous prizes awaiting the winners.. Pixeljam Presents NOVA DRIFT - A Deep ARPG-SHMUP : Hello all, We're excited to announce that after almost 5 years in development, NOVA DRIFT is ready for the world to play: (Click anywhere that's NOT the 'add to cart' button for more info on the game) It's an ARPG-Styled space brawler with tons of customization options, depth and polish. Kind of like Asteroids meets Path of Exile.. Rex has been updated to 1.01, LEADERBOARD & SPEEDRUN CONTEST : Hello All, We've uploaded an update to Rex, bumping the game to version 1.01. Here is what changed: - Speedrun exploit fixed, preventing player from being able to reset while banking coins. (Sorry!) - Millisecond granularity added to timer / time submitted to leaderboards. - Timer now records your par time the instant you hit an ending door (it used to wait until the fade-out finished). - Music now fades out on zone transition. We're transitioning over to 4 new leaderboards today, since the old ones have the speedrun exploit reflected in them. The old ones will say RETIRED. In celebration of the new leaderboards, we're having a CONTEST: Today starts the Magic Gem Speedrun Contest , ending 1 week from today (next Monday). Top 3 get prizes, including existing Pixeljam Games and some other goodies. The top overall score at the end of 6 weeks will also get a Dino Run T-Shirt..
